

April Class Sign-Up Colored Pencils with Ric Forney Sat., April 6, 2024

Please welcome Ric Forney to DAGSO for the first time. Ric will be teaching "Rascals on Parade" for us. Ric is a member of the Color Pencil Society of America and is highly involved in the local Cincinnati chapter. Ric has experience with all the mediums but after taking a class with Debbie Hook in colored pencil, he found his medium of choice! Colored pencils allow him to use his drawing ability for the detail in his artwork as well as offering him a challenge.

Surface: The wood surface will be provided by the instructor at no charge.

Colored Pencil and Wood Burning Art – Supply List included as separate insert.

In this workshop will explore methods of applying pigment to laser engraved wooden panels. The porous structure of wood tends to soak up color. The secret is to apply pigment that can be absorbed but still maintain its color and vibrancy.

Derwent InkTense pigments are used in this demonstration because of their good lightfast rating and the way colors remain bold on the wooden surface. The colors on the supply list were selected to coincide with sets available from Derwent. Other colors may be substituted, in fact it doesn't even have to be colored pencil. Feel free to experiment with watercolor or other translucent pigment for this class.

For those who don't already have supplies, there's multiple options available. See insert or attachment.

- A complete kit is available to those without supplies.
- Participants can also purchase individual supplies as needed.
- A limited number of used kits are available for those who prefer to borrow supplies instead of purchase.

I hope we have a solution for everyone who'd like to attend without worrying about supplies.
